

LEADERSHIP BIO

Gavin Power

VP OF FINANCE

Gavin is the Vice President of Finance at Contently. Originally from Ireland, Gavin moved to New York City after graduating from Dublin City University. He spent several years in KPMG's advisory practice, managing financial due diligence teams in buy-side M&A transactions ranging from $100 million to $3 billion for prominent clients like IBM, CA Technologies, Providence Equity Partners, and Thomas H. Lee Partners. He came to Contently by way of Citigroup, where he served as vice president in a niche finance group, supporting the CFO and head of productivity. While at Citi, he worked on several high-profile projects, including the exit strategy of global business units and their financial impact to publicly disclosed targets. He finally left his suit-wearing days behind when he came to Contently to oversee finance and operations. Gavin lives on Long Island with his wife and three children.
